

Pennsylvania's Auditor General Tim DeFoor, a Republican, previously announced that he was launching an audit of Pennsylvania's so-called motor voter system. The audit was to focus on Shapiro's automatic voter registration at driver's licensing centers. In discussions with Pennsylvania Patriot Coalition leadership DeFoor made clear the audit would be done prior to the November election and would be intended to ensure noncitizens were not registered to vote.

DeFoor is now saying his audit will not be concluded for nine to twelve months.

Pennsylvanians have seen a lot of such betrayals in the last few years. We were promised a full investigation of the 2020 election results. That never happened.

We watched in disbelief as Republicans in Harrisburg installed Al Schmidt as Secretary of State to oversee "election integrity". Schmidt ran elections in Philadelphia in 2020 and got a medal from Joe Biden for delivering that city to the Democrats.

We were stunned recently when Republican Senator Cris Dush introduced legislation to limit the ability of Pennsylvanians to file right to know requests and determine what their government was doing without their knowledge.

In that context, this feels a lot like yet another example of a Republican officeholder turning his back on the people. We have waited for years for action to be taken regarding the integrity of the electoral process. There is no conceivable justification for leaving this issue to the last minute and asking us to go through yet another Presidential election without assurances that the process will be transparent and lawful.

We are calling on Tim DeFoor to fulfill his promise and complete this audit before we go to the polls on Election Day. The people of Pennsylvania, all of them, deserve to know that this critical election will be free and fair.

The Pennsylvania Patriot Coalition is asking every Patriot in Pennsylvania to immediately contact the Auditor General and demand he commit to completing this audit and announcing its results before Election Day.
